Imagine coming home from a late shift, pulling into your driveway, and quietly opening your garage door without waking the kids or disturbing the neighbours. It's not just a luxury; it's the result of thoughtful design and engineering by B&D.; With over 75 years of innovation, B&D; Garage Doors has perfected a garage door that's not only built to last but also made to operate quietly and smoothly. From the integration of Nylofelt running strips to enhanced insulation, B&D; ensures peace and quiet whenever your garage door moves. Nylofelt Running Strips for Seamless, Quiet Operation One key feature that makes B&D; roller doors stand out is the Nylofelt running strips. These innovative strips, introduced in 1968, feature a woven nylon exterior and felt interior, offering seamless, quiet operation whenever you open or close your garage door. The smooth glide of the door across these strips significantly reduces noise, making loud, rattling garage door sounds a thing of the past. Whether you're arriving home late at night or simply want to avoid unnecessary noise during the day, Nylofelt ensures your garage door works quietly in the background. Insulation for Added Comfort Another reason B&D; garage doors operate quietly is the insulation and noise reduction they provide. Designed to reduce unwanted noise from inside and outside the garage, B&D;'s insulated doors make a noticeable difference in your home's sound environment. If your garage is attached to the house or near bedrooms, a loud door is the last thing you want disturbing the peace. B&D; doors help create a quieter living space, making them an ideal choice for families with small children, shift workers, or anyone who values a bit of quiet when they need it most. The Real-Life Benefits of a Quiet Garage Door With a B&D; garage door, there's no need to tiptoe around your home. Whether you're a single parent coming home after the kids are in bed or have a very early start to the day, the quiet operation of your garage door makes all the difference. It's more than just convenience it's about creating a peaceful environment where small details, like a quiet garage door, contribute to a more restful living. Many Australian homeowners use their garage doors multiple times a day. With B&D;'s quiet doors, you can come and go without worrying about disturbing the household. Your neighbours will also appreciate the quiet, especially in closely built suburbs or townhouses where sound travels easily. It's a subtle, yet significant, improvement to your daily routine that contributes to a more comfortable and enjoyable home life. Quiet, reliable, and built to last For over 75 years, B&D; Garage Doors have led the way in garage door innovation, and our commitment to quality and design continues with every product we release. From Nylofelt running strips to insulated panels, every detail is designed to ensure a quiet, smooth operation .
