The opener or automation is the motor that drives the garage door. Garage door openers themselves are certainly not all created equally; you're spoilt for choice with options that make a big difference to security, safety and efficiency – not to mention convenience. Find a supplier near you Find a supplier near you Find a supplier near you Call us today Call us today Call us today On this page Which B&D; remote is right for me? What's Tri-Tran+ technology? Smart Phone Control Smart as can B&D; Why Choose B&D; Which B&D; remote is right for me? Here's a rundown on the various B&D; residential garage door remotes and openers available, their optional extras and the benefits of each. Garage door remote controls The garage door remote has a big part to play in the security of your garage, therefore it's essential to choose a quality product. The prevalence of automatic garage doors has not deterred would-be thieves, who can hack transmitter codes of unprotected devices. B&D; has addressed that problem with Tri-Tran+ technology, which generates a new random code every time the garage door is operated. Garage door opener remotes Garage door opener remotes Garage door opener remotes Wall mounted remote control Wireless wall-mounted remote controls can be super handy if you want to open the garage but don't have your keys and remote in hand. We have two options; a stylish white button version comes standard with your opener and a wall mount with extra-large buttons is also available. Both are compatible with all B&D; motors using TB-6 and TB-5 remote controls. You can easily install the large button model yourself, with no wiring necessary. Wall mounted remote control Wall mounted remote control Entry keypads Got a busy household with children coming and going, or regular visits from extended family? An Entry Keypad allows entry to the garage without a remote control, all you need is a PIN and you're away. You can pop out for a walk without having to carry anything and forget about rushing home from the office because children have lost their keys. No one need ever be locked out of the house again with a garage entry keypad. Entry keypads Entry keypads Entry keypads What's Tri-Tran+ technology? Tri-Tran+ prevents code theft so that only your approved remote controls will open your garage door. With dangerous Apps readily available to download and hack into garage door opener, it's easier than ever for would be thieves to gain access to your home. B&D's smart and encrypted Tri-Tran+ technology works by simultaneously transmitting on three different frequencies ensuring your garage is tightly secured against criminals. Wireless devices such as headphones and sound systems also operate on the same frequencies as door and gate openers and can jam out your opener's receiver, even from a distance. With multi-frequency capability, the Tri-Tran+ transmitter will operate your garage door even if two frequencies are jammed. Two Tri-Tran+ Premium Remote Controls come with each B&D; opener . Designed to fit comfortably in hand, there's a red and a black version so you'll know which belongs to whom. You can also choose a lightweight, four-button remote perfect for attaching to a keyring. Smart Phone Control Perhaps the most exciting innovation in garage door remote access is smartphone control. If you – like most people these days – have your phone with you at all times, make the most of its abilities and opt for our Smart Phone Control Kit . Use the kit to operate your garage door from anywhere If for instance a delivery arrives and you're on the other side of town, you can open the garage door to let the driver in, then lock it shut behind them. The B&D; App doesn't just open and close the garage door remotely; it sends notifications (that you can personalise to suit) to let you know who has used the garage door, tell you if the door has been left open for long periods or if there is an obstruction and more. Plus, with a Smartphone Control Kit , you can even talk to your garage door! Use voice-activated control via Siri and Google Assistant to operate the door hands-free.
