Automating your sectional door not only makes it convenient to access your garage it also improves the safety and security of your home through features like automatic backdrive, automatic reverse and smartphone alerts. From the affordable Secure opener , to the clever Smart opener , or even our premium Smart Pro opener there's an automation solution for every sectional garage door. Smart as can B&D; Get A FREE Quote Get A FREE Quote Get A FREE Quote Automate your new or existing sectional door. The best time to automate your sectional door is as the door is being installed, however you can add an automatic door motor at any time. Adding a B&D; sectional door motor ensures that your garage is securely sealed every time you close it with features like automatic backdrive forcing the door back down when it senses unwanted entry. Our sectional garage door openers are purpose designed to work with all B&D; sectional doors which is why, when purchased together they can be secured with our 10-year total confidence warranty. Why automate? Not only does automating your new B&D; sectional door make it easier to use, it also adds an extra layer of safety and security. Improves safety: In-built automatic reversing smarts reverses the door if it senses an obstruction is in the way. Increases security: Prevent unwanted entry with automatic back drive which forces the door back down if it senses unwanted entry. Added convenience: By ensuring you no longer need to worry about leaving the car to open or close your garage door late at night or in the middle of a storm. Which opener is right for me? All of our sectional door openers are stress tested to ensure they open and close your garage door quickly and quietly, year after year, no matter the size of the door. B&D; sectional door openers include a soft start and soft stop feature that minimises the stress on the opener, while also helping to reduce noise when opening or closing the door. You should get your garage door motor serviced regularly (approximately every two years) to maximise the life of the motor. The good news is, B&D; motors are so smart that that the built-in tech will automatically let you know when a service is due. Even your car isn't that smart! Smart Pro is perfectly suited to Designer doors. Smart is a great match for Panelift Icon doors

Secure should be paired with Panelift doors. If you have a door from our Designer Series range then you need a Smart Pro garage door opener. This opener is powerfully designed to lift heavy residential doors. The Smart Pro opener is fully equipped with top-of-the-range safety and security features such as AUTO LOCK™, safety beams, smartphone control and battery backup. The Smart Pro opener comes with a seven-year warranty (or 30,000 cycles). Learn more about the Smart Pro opener. If you have a Panelift Icon garage door then the Smart opener is the perfect match. Pair your Smart Opener with a Panelift Icon sectional door for the ultimate in garage safety and security. Every Panelift Icon sectional door comes with AUTO LOCK™, a heavy-duty deadbolt that automatically locks your door every time it's closed. Featuring advanced sensing technology, the Smart Opener's motor is specially designed to prevent forced entry. Innovative smartphone control allows you to open, close and monitor your door remotely, as well as manage access for as many or few users as you choose. If purchased alone, the Smart Opener comes with a seven-year warranty (or 20,000 cycles). Learn more about the Smart opener. If you have a standard Panelift garage door then the Secure opener is the perfect match. The Secure opener is designed to be paired with the standard Panelift sectional door, ensuring your garage door opens and closes quickly and seamlessly day after day, year after year. Heavy lifting capacity means the Secure Opener suits both single and double-sized Panelift sectional doors of up to 235kg. If purchased alone, the Smart Opener comes with a seven-year warranty (or 20,000 cycles). Learn more about the Secure opener. B&D; sectional door openers keep you safe and secure. Why you should protect your home with a B&D; opener. B&D; sectional openers are stress tested to ensure they open and close your garage door quickly and quietly, year after year, no matter the size of the door. B&D; sectional door openers include a soft start and soft stop feature that minimises the stress on the opener, and reduces noise when opening or closing the door. Smart and Smart Pro include built-in smart technology that allows you to control your door with your smartphone from anywhere in the world.
