It features the famous B&D; Roll-A-Door curtain, fitted on a curving track, lifting the door from a vertical position up into a horizontal position, close to the ceiling for a clean, neat appearance. It's all of the features of a traditional tilt door without the nasty safety hazards. This means the door can be fitted to openings with unusual shapes like arches. If you have limited space above the opening of your garage (also known as headroom) Flex-A-Door is the perfect solution, squeezing in to tighter spaces than sectional or roller doors. Original as can B&D; Original as can B&D; Original as can B&D; Safer than a tilt door Unlike tilt garage doors the extension springs are tucked away above head height – well out of the reach of children. No moving brackets or door supports ensures no dangerous accidents occur to little (or big) fingers as the door opens and closes. You also have the convenience of being able to park right up against it as it lifts and lowers, ensuring the back of your car stays protected in your driveway. Safe as can B&D; Safe as can B&D; Safe as can B&D; Built tough to last Made from Colorbond steel, Flex-A-Door is built tough and designed to stand up to the harsh Australian climate. Available in an extensive range of colours there's something to suit every exterior. Designed using the famous Roll-A-Door curtain, in situations where a Flex-A-Door and a Roll-A-Door may be installed next to each other the two doors match perfectly. As a main assembly point, with family and friends coming and going, we understand that safety is paramount for a garage door. With several innovative safety and security features, a B&D; garage door will keep your family and belongings safe and secure. Added Security A standard garage door is vulnerable when closed. B&D;'s AUTO LOCK™ technology automatically secures your garage door with a heavy-duty bolt without manual intervention, ensuring your door is locked shut. Added Protection Accidents can happen in a flash. That's why B&D;'s sectional garage doors feature a pinch-free design to prevent fingers or hands from getting caught while the door moves. With pinch-free technology, everyone is safe, no matter how often the garage door is used. Safety and Security For extra safety and protection, B&D;'s safety beam will pause or reverse your garage door if there is any obstruction, providing peace of mind and convenience for people with mobility or disability challenges. I had nearly 50 years of trouble-free operation from a pair of B and D roller doors on my garage. In 2019 when I purchased a car with wider doors, I had to replace the pair of doors with a single and an opener. The quoting and ordering process was simple. The installation went without a hitch. To date, the operation has been faultless Kel Y., Melbourne We have 2 roller doors and both have been reliable over 3 years. They provide good security to our property which is a bonus. Congratulations guys Peter P., Melbourne We love our new garage door! It is the best! It closes so quietly and so quickly. It looks so stylish and we are thrilled with it. I don't know how we put up with our old fashioned roller door for so long. Andrea, Adelaide Love my new Roller door. So quite and smooth. Installation was quick and the guys excellent. If you can't see the answer, give us a call on 13 62 63 and our friendly team can help you out. Why B&D; don't make tilt doors? Here at B&D;, we believe safety is of the utmost importance in choosing the right garage door, which is why we do not manufacture tilt garage doors. Tilt garage doors require ample space in front of the garage to swing the door open, creating a hazard with risk of serious injury, especially if the door's springs snap, which could lead to it hurting someone or damaging property. Tilt doors are more susceptible to damage than roller or sectional doors. Tilt doors have two springs that sit on either side of the door that allow the door to lift and lower. When these springs get worn out they become projectile missiles, snapping and spinning off, often causing damage to property or worse, people. This also causes the door to slam closed without warning bringing hundreds of kilo's crashing down into the garage. Tilt doors also don't allow you to park right up against the door as it needs more room to swing open. The lack of side support also makes tilting doors susceptible to wind damage, draughts and are more likely to suffer dents.
