The rigid single panel swings on side arms, outward and upward to be stored along the ceiling of the garage. Tilt garage doors require ample space in front of the garage to swing the door open. Key features of a tilt door A tilt garage door is often found on smaller garages or car spaces, built as a single panel and reinforced with a frame. As their name suggests, the door opens by tilting outwards and swinging upwards. Tilt garage doors: Open outwards and swings upwards Do not require excess headroom in your garage door Can be clad with different colours and materials to suit design needs Can be manufactured to fit unique spaces B&D; offer quality tilt door fittings The B&D; range of Tilt Garage Door fittings offer the opportunity to create a door that is in harmony with its surroundings, giving the building a truly tailored and unique appearance. With durability and safety primary concerns, B&D; Group Tilt Door fittings offer the quality that is expected with all B&D; Garage Doors and provide you with the opportunity to design a door that is only limited by your imagination. Perfectly suited to larger garage doors where greater stability is provided through the addition of horizontal tracks to hold the door in the open position so as to minimise protrusion outside the opening. What alternative does B&D; offer to a tilt door? Australia's premium steel sliding garage door, the unique B&D; Flex-A-Door is the perfect alternative when you are looking to replace your existing tilt door, or in situations where you have restricted headroom in your garage or carport. It features the famous B&D; Roll-A-Door curtain, fitted on a curving track, lifting the door from a vertical position up into a horizontal position, close to the ceiling for a clean, neat appearance. It's all of the features of a traditional tilt door without the nasty safety hazards. Flex-A-Door - the safer, tilt door alternative Flex-A-Door fits behind the opening and does not protrude forward, like jamb or canopy type tilting doors. This means the door can be fitted to openings with unusual shapes like arches. Flex-A-Door Flex-A-Door Flex-A-Door Great for low headroom spaces that roller doors can't fit If you have limited space above the opening of your garage (also known as headroom) Flex-A-Door is the perfect solution, squeezing in to tighter spaces than sectional or roller doors.
